

Enhance Your Understanding of Workday

Workday offers a wide range of post-deployment services to help customers maximize the value in their investments. We have a broad mix of standard and premium services tailored to meet your needs—whether you are planning to roll out new technology, looking to enhance your current configuration, or just trying to determine whether a particular product feature is the right fit.

As Workday customers look to expand their feature footprint, they may first need to fully understand a specific feature area. Workday offers two services: the Next Level Series, included in the subscription price, and Enablement Workshops.

Next Level Series

Feature Focus Sessions: Wondering if you should expand your Workday footprint and deploy more functionality? These 1-hour demonstrations delivered by Workday product experts provide a detailed introduction into specific feature areas, including considerations for deployment. Designed for the full project team, sessions are presented live via WebEx and recorded so you can watch them on demand.

Past topics have included Talent, Compensation, Onboarding, and Technology. Since they are recorded, view them as your schedule allows. Tune in to tune up your Workday knowledge!

Register for all Next Level sessions on the Workday Community at <https://community.workday.com/training/51097>, or email thenextlevel@workday.com for additional information.

Enablement Workshops

Are you a DIY (deploy it yourself) shop? Do you like to get in and configure your system, but sometimes need a little focused support, knowledge, and coaching to get you going?

Workday Enablement Workshops are hands-on, two- or three-day workshops consisting of lectures, demonstrations, and activities on a specific feature area. The objective is to enable you to configure and deploy the feature. During the workshop, you'll spend time in your own sandbox tenant and work on the configuration alongside our expert coaches and Workday Enablement consultants.

Workday offers Enablement Workshops in many key feature areas. Enablement Workshop schedules are updated regularly. Find the most current schedule, along with detailed descriptions, logistics, and cost on Workday Community: <https://community.workday.com/node/42683>.

Register via the Learning Management System. A registration "how-to" guide can be found on the Enablement Workshop page on Workday Community using the link above. For inquiries, email: customer.readiness@workday.com.
