

Learn On-Demand.

The Workday Education Learn On-Demand libraries provide an online reference for your Workday administrators. These collections of short, targeted, self-paced e-learning courses cover different product areas and specific configurations, activities, and tasks within Workday.

The libraries provide just-in-time, 24/7 training support for your Workday administrators who can take the courses from any computer with an internet connection.

Enhancements to Workday are reflected in the libraries as well. Existing courses are updated when there are changes in product functionality, and new courses are added to provide training on the latest product features.

The Workday Payroll, Workday Absence Management, and Workday Time Tracking library provides training for these product areas as well as for activities such as off-cycle payroll processing and defining your Workday Time Tracking work schedule calendar.

Cross-application technology works across all Workday products that support tasks such as reporting, security administration, and integrations.
