

Workday for Mobile

In our continuously connected world, people want to stay up-to-date and have information at their fingertips 24/7. Your employees expect access to information and critical tasks. Your managers need to be able to supervise their people from anywhere. And your executives require constant access to their key performance indicators that empower better decision-making.

At Workday, we embrace this “always-on” experience by designing our mobile applications to take advantage of everything mobile has to offer. You can access Workday via your mobile browser. And you can find the Workday mobile app at the iPhone or iPad App Store, or the Google Play Store.

Mobilize Your Workforce

Enable your workers to spend more time with customers by providing applications they can access while on the go. With Workday for mobile, workers can submit requests for time off or expense reports, check on projects, submit their benefits enrollment, and enter time spent on activities in real time.

Intuitive and Always Up-to-Date

Designed specifically for your mobile device—using native mobile platform capabilities and natural human gestures—Workday for mobile is simple and intuitive. And since your data is delivered in the cloud, the information you access is always up-to-date.

Insight and Action at Your Fingertips

Mobile applications should offer more than just notifications. Workday for mobile allows you to keep up with your current work tasks and provides the insight you need to make decisions quickly. Increase efficiency and response times when you are on the go by browsing dashboards and reports—independently or embedded as part of a work task. If your mobile device is ever lost or stolen, you can be confident that your data is secure because all information is protected by the Workday security model and stored in the cloud, not on your device.

Manage More Effectively

You want to be able to manage and engage your employees even when you are out of the office. Workday for mobile gives you access to valuable information about your team or individual employees from anywhere at any time. View team calendar activities or review information on team compensation or performance management. Drill into individual details about each employee to stay up-to-date with your team members even when you're out of the office. And take quick action on tasks such as approving expenses or time off.

A Simpler Mobile Application

Deploying and managing Workday for mobile is easy and familiar, with a consistent look and feel as Workday for the web. And because it uses the same security model as the rest of Workday, you can access and explore information across Workday components without leaving the application.

Check out Workday for mobile in the iPhone or iPad App Store or the Google Play Store. You can also access Workday on your mobile web browser.
