

Workday Payroll Compliance Updates Dashboard

The payroll compliance updates dashboard in Workday Payroll enables you to easily visualize which upcoming compliance changes may have the biggest effect on your organization.

Compliance Made Simple

Changes can happen at all different jurisdictions. For companies that operate in multiple jurisdictions and/or countries, tracking numerous compliance updates can be difficult. The payroll compliance updates dashboard takes the guesswork out of compliance by making it easy for you to see exactly what changes are coming, when those changes are taking place, and how they might affect your employees and organization.

A Smarter Way to Manage Compliance

Not all changes will have an equal impact on your employee population, so Workday uses employee information to display compliance updates in a more meaningful way.

- Understand which changes are high impact: View the changes that will potentially affect the largest number of employees first.
- Get the details: The actionable analytics function in Workday enables you to drill into the details of any compliance change directly from the dashboard. See the effective date, the type of change, a description, and even a link to the source of the change.
- View future and past changes: See what changes are coming into effect in the future or get a historical perspective on past changes, even across tax years.

Built for Global Companies
